

QualityFeed for QualityFood®

For more than 60 years, Wenger's has been manufacturing feed products and has the experience, expertise, and commitment to customers to deliver a consistent ration every time.

- Quality in every load governed by ISO-certified manufacturing processes
- Approved suppliers and regular ingredient testing
- Feeds are created using the actual ingredient nutrient values for maximum efficiency
- Custom feed formulas to meet unique requirements and consumer preferences
- Our fleet of trucks caters to your needs and delivery schedule
- Six milling locations in two states for convenient, cost-effective delivery

Quality from the Beginning

As one of the only feed mills in North America that meets ISO requirements, our customers can trust in every stage of purchasing, manufacturing, and delivery. All feed is made to order with fresh ingredients. Regular maintenance of all mill and delivery equipment insures consistently ground corn, an even mixture of ingredients in every batch, durable pellets, and on-time delivery. Feeds can be traced at any stage in the manufacturing process back to inbound ingredient trucks. Samples of all outbound orders are taken and kept for our quality assurance department.

The Right Ingredients

Quality feed starts with ingredients purchased from a select group of approved suppliers. Wenger's uses the nutrient profiles of current ingredients to formulate for maximum efficiency at the best price.

Custom Feed Formulation

Thousands of feed formulas have been developed to meet unique requirements. From breed types, health, and housing configurations to product and packer requirements, we listen to your needs and recommend the best feed formula for your situation.

All feeding programs are designed with actual amino acid levels to provide the most efficient performance and nutritional package. Pelleted and meal feeds are available from most locations.

On-Time Delivery

On-time delivery is provided by our team of caring operators in our company-maintained fleet. Deliveries are made 24 hours a day, Monday through Saturday, at most locations. Each truck is equipped with disinfecting units that spray the wheels upon entering and exiting your farm to protect your biosecurity, and all truck compartments are properly flushed as needed.

A Network of Mills to Serve You

Wenger's Feed Mill, Inc. operates six mills in two states. Our network of locations places us close to your farming operation. You save on delivery charges and receive the freshest product possible. Let us put our products and services to work for your business.

The ISO Difference

Wenger's management system is certified in ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and OHSAS 18001. ISO certification is internationally recognized and means our processes are audited by independent third parties to ensure that customers receive a consistent, traceable, and reliable product manufactured and delivered in a safe, efficient, and environmentally responsible manner.

Wenger's, a family-owned company founded in 1944, is a major supplier of poultry and swine feeds and allied services in the Mid-Atlantic States.
